

PORTFOLIO ASSET ALLOCATION

The Foundation believes that asset allocation is the most important decision an investor can make and is key to achieving long-term objectives. Additionally, genuine diversification across different sources of risk and return improves investment efficiency and may help achieve the same level of expected return with a lower level of risk. The Balanced Pool’s primary objective is to preserve capital while providing modest growth.

MARKET COMMENTARY

In May, global equities and fixed income posted positive returns. Global equities returned ~4.0% with US equities outperforming both international and emerging market equities. International equities outperformed emerging markets while growth significantly outperformed value during the month. Fixed income, as measured by the Bloomberg US Aggregate Index, returned ~1.7% as yields fell across the curve. US headline inflation eased to 3.4% while core inflation fell to 3.6% as both were in line with expectations and helped provide some support for risk assets. The US dollar weakened against most major currencies as commodities and global REITs both underperformed broader equities. Crude oil declined following strong performance earlier in the year while gold continued to climb and hit new record highs.
